Great Pole Vaulter Balks

New York, June 22.—While hundreds of athletes are bemoaning their loss at not having "made" the Olympic team, which will represent America at the London stadium next month, a world's champion, one of the first to be picked by the American committee, has said that he will not accept the honor and will not compete. He is W. P. Dray, of Yale university, a champion with whom athletes of the whole world are familiar.

His feats in the pole vaults have for more than a year been viewed with wonder. For two years he has held the world's record and the intercollegiate championship.
At the intercollegiate meet in 1907 he hurled himself into the air the unprecedented distance of 12 feet 5 1/2 inches and established a mark that remained untouched until he himself nearly a year later, added another inch to it.

At the Olympic tryouts he was defeated by Gilbert, one of his class mates, and stripped of the record and title.
Spurred on by disappointment, Dray trained and practiced as he never had before, with the result that at a meet at Danbury, Conn., he cleared the bar at 12 feet 9 1/2 inches. So much higher is this than any vault ever recorded that Dray announced immediately after his vault that he was content to rest on his laurels and allow Gilbert, Nelson, Cooke and other prominent vaulters to beat the foreigners when America meets the world next month.
While Dray is probably sincere in his desire to refrain from competing those who know him best say that when the time comes for the American pole vaulters to line up in the London stadium, Dray will be one of the first on the field. His patriotism they say will compel him to strive for the success of his country.

DOPE FOR THE FANS

Pulliam, who played center field for the locals, is making good at Joplin. He is leading the hitting average in the association and batting well.

"Dad" Bennett is playing with McAlester in O. K. league. He still has his batting eye and continues to play a good game at third base.

The fans have decided that baseball should not be given up here this season, even if the league has been disbanded and will finish out the season playing independent ball, endeavoring to have a Sunday game here all summer.

The Guthrie Park association might fix up the ball park now that independent ball will be played here all summer. The weeds in the field are very bad and the fence and bleachers need repairing.

Harry Womack is twirling a good game this season for Bartlesville.

The O. K. league is debating the question of whether an eight town league would be a good move. El Reno and Guthrie would willingly come in as the seventh and eighth towns.

HARPIST AT EPWORTH ASSEMBLY

A very pleasing feature of the Oklahoma Epworth assembly will be the harp selection played by Miss Florence Doggett, a former student of St. Joseph assembly in Perry, Okla., this summer, here Miss Doggett studied a year in and she has consented to give her Visitation convent in St. Louis. She many friends this opportunity of hearing her again. She will appear with her harp twice daily during the assembly.

Truth Demonstrated

Many people during past ten days have taken enough interest to call at our store to ascertain for themselves the facts about our

Great Piano Sale

Now Going On

Their eyes have been opened to the truth, followed by their home being supplied with one of our high grade pianos.

Our competitors are false to you in that they say they are making great reductions on pianos because they do not wish to move their pianos away from Guthrie. They give that as a reason when in fact they shipped those same pianos into their store here after their reductions and fake advertising had been placed in the printer's hands saying they didn't wish to ship their closing out pianos back to their other stores.

Again they positively have not cut their prices on a single new piano—if we could not prove this we would not say so—yet they use half page "adds" telling about their Great Closing Out Sale. No Okla. City firm can humbug the citizens here so easily as that.

The people of Guthrie deserve to know these facts—
When we advertise a cut price sale we mean it, and you have only to call to be convinced.

Only a few more days remaining and if you expect to purchase a new piano in the near future—we can clearly show the most skeptical that we are now positively selling pianos at
